About the Program

In March of 2019 Southern Hills Hospital opened the Behavioral Health Pavilion. The Pavilion is an 80 -bed inpatient unit which is attached to the hospital and spans over 45,000 square feet. Residents rotate at the pavilion where they have the opportunity to learn and treat those in need of behavioral needs.

Residents treat patients from 12 years old and older. Residents, Attendings and medical staff are able to build a community of support around each patient and their family as soon as they are admitted. Upon admission to the program, residents will do an assessment of the patient, after which an individual behavioral health treatment plan is developed.

Currently there are 12 residents in the program.
